

Tim Manuel

Principal Consultant & Head of Responsible Investment – Investment, Aon

Tim heads up the Responsible Investment team in the UK, leading the development and implementation of Aon's policies and solutions. He helps pension fund trustees and other investors understand the implications of responsible investing and supporting them through the practicalities of making decisions that support their wider financial objectives.

He is a senior member of the Aon Investment Consulting practice in the UK and is responsible for advising a number of trustees and corporate clients.

Tim is a fellow of the Institute and Faculty of Actuaries.